

cdtps.utoronto.ca

Centre for Drama, Theatre & Performance Studies
UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

A CREATIVE COMMUNITY WITHIN A WORLD-CLASS UNIVERSITY

Apply for an undergraduate degree in Drama, Theatre & Performance Studies. Our Centre offers interdisciplinary courses and rigorous practical training in a newly renovated, state-of-the-art facility. Our new spaces, located on University of Toronto's St. George campus, will offer you a contemporary rehearsal studio, reconfigurable black box theatre, comfortable student lounge areas, ultramodern seminar rooms and hoteling workspaces. There is no better place to get your start.

Advice to First Years

Enroll in our Foundation course:

DRM101Y1 Intro to Drama, Theatre & Performance Studies

You can also apply straight out of high school or during your second year for DRM200Y1 Performance I

Application Deadlines: March 10th and August 1st

In Your Second Year

Enroll in DRM220Y1 Comparative Theatre Histories and any one of our entry studio courses:

DRM202H: Directing I (application required)

DRM228H: Playwriting I

DRM254: Design & Production I

Programs

Bachelor of Arts (Honours):

Drama Specialist

Drama Major

Drama Minor

Double Major in Drama and English, Women and Gender Studies, Cinema Studies, Sexual Diversity Studies, Art History, Classics, Religion, Anthropology, Canadian Studies, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology, Human Biology, Computer Science, Cognitive Science and more.

Possible Future Careers

- Performer
- Director
- Acting coach
- Backstage technician
- Playwright
- Teacher
- Film / TV crew member
- Fundraiser / Event planner
- Cultural writer
- Producer
- Project manager
- Stage manager
- Scholar / Researcher
- University professor and more!

CDTPS also offers Master and Doctoral Graduate Programs.